

Tito's ghost

The Economist, April 30, 1994

What would happen in former Yugoslavia if its communist ruler, Josip Broz Tito, returned from the dead? The question stimulated Zelimir Zilnik, a film director, to dress Dragoljub Ljubicic, an actor, as Tito in full military uniform and take him through Belgrade.

The result captured in "Tito: For The Second Time Among The Serbs", is an extraordinary quasi-documentary film that has just opened in Belgrade, the capital of Serbia...
